

New tax bill would hurt educators

Publicity from the House of Representatives claims their new tax code will benefit the middle class.

However, the facts are that it would:

- Eliminate the currently allowable, measly, deduction of $250 a year teachers pay out of their own pockets to buy supplemental material for their (our) students.

- Eliminate, by 2024, the tax on estates over $5 million.

Therefore here is the true score on the House tax bill: the elites win and the educators lose.
