

Iceland Pavilion is cool at Expo in Shanghai

Who: Sandy and Star Carey of Canyon Lake

Where: Shanghai

We went because: We wanted to be a part of San Antonio days at Expo 2010.

Don't miss: The Iceland Pavilion. There is a 360-degree immersion film.

Don't bother: With the Hungary Pavilion. Boring.

Worth a splurge: Lunch at the France Pavilion. Good food and then immediate access to the exhibit, bypassing the long line outside.

Wis), I had packed: A couple of bottles of water. You'll want them upon arrival, and after drinking them there will be more space for souvenirs.

Postscript: The best part of the USA Pavilion was the friendly, joke-cracking, Chinese-speaking U.S. guides. Be sure to carry a note, in Chinese, of your hotel location for the taxi driver. Be sure to wear your cowboy hat and boots. The Chinese love Texas and will want to have their picture taken with you.
